Focus On Safety: Be a STAR!

Series Introduction to Safe Longshore Maintenance and Repair Operations

USMX11 | FOCUS ON SAFETY: M&R OPERATIONS

As the introductory module of the Maintenance and Repair training series, this program emphasizes the importance of safety while performing M&R work and explains how to “focus on safety.”

USMX14 | FOCUS ON SAFETY: BURNING AND WELDING

Focusing on how to be safe when performing burning and welding tasks, this program covers major hot work processes; proper pre-planning concepts; personal safety and engineering controls; work area and equipment safety; and proper handling of hexavalent chromium.

USMX12 | FOCUS ON SAFETY: PERSONAL SAFETY

This program highlights personal safety while performing Maintenance and Repair work. Topics include personal protective equipment; causes of back injuries and how to prevent them; proper lifting techniques; how to protect in various types of weather; basic HAZCOM requirements; and basic overall wellness.

USMX15 | FOCUS ON SAFETY: POWER HAND TOOLS

This program features the safe operation of common powered hand tools. Specifically, it covers powered hand tools used on the job; personal protective equipment (PPE) and safe work practices to use when working with powered hand tools; and basic electrical safety when using powered hand tools.

USMX13 | FOCUS ON SAFETY: WORKPLACE SAFETY

With an emphasis on safe work practices, this program covers good housekeeping practices; safe use of ladders; scaffolding and lifts; safe jacking procedures; how to prevent slips, trips and falls; correct lockout/tagout procedures; and safe driving techniques.

USMX16 | FOCUS ON SAFETY: MULTI-PIECE RIM WORK

Teaching how to perform multi-piece rim work safely, this program covers the parts of a multi-piece rim assembly; potential hazards of multi-piece rim work; necessary PPE, equipment, and tools for multi-piece rim work; how to use matching charts; and how to safely assemble, disassemble, and reassemble a multi-piece rim.

To order this series, see order form – USMX-ILA Training Products

Focus On Safety: Be a STAR!

Series Introduction to Safe Longshore Maintenance and Repair Operations

USMX17 | FOCUS ON SAFETY: COMMUNICATION

This program focuses on communication to ensure safety and how to communicate in an emergency situation. It also discusses first aid awareness.

USMX20 | FOCUS ON SAFETY: PERFORMING FACILITY MAINTENANCE

With a focus on facility maintenance, this program emphasizes safety by covering general PPE, safe work, good housekeeping tips, and electrical safety practices.

USMX18 | FOCUS ON SAFETY: MAINTAINING AND REPAIRING STRADDLE CARRIERS AND RUBBER TIRED GANTRY CRANES

With an emphasis on safety while maintaining and repairing straddle carriers and rubber-tired gantry cranes, this program, covers PPE requirements; tool safety; safe work practices for accessing the equipment and for removing and replacing tires; and how to respond to a breakdown, spill, or incident involving a straddle carrier or RTG.

USMX21 | FOCUS ON SAFETY: PREVENTING INCIDENTS IN THE WORKPLACE

A motivational piece in the Maintenance and Repair training series, this program emphasizes the hazards of complacency; the danger of distractions; how to create a personal safety routine; and the importance of being mindful of safety while working.

USMX19 | FOCUS ON SAFETY: MAINTAINING AND REPAIRING CRANES

This program teaches how to be safe while maintaining and repairing cranes. Topics include general PPE requirements: how to safely access, start and shut down a crane; safe work practices such as proper lifting, good housekeeping, and safe welding procedures; and the safe use of pneumatic and hydraulic equipment.

Maritime Safety

Updated Series

MRT025 | FORESEE YOUR SAFETY

The waterfront is a dynamic and dangerous place to work, so it's imperative that your employees work safely. Show them how to use the 4 C's of safety – competence, compassion, communication, and courage – to help keep themselves and others safe on the job.

Purchase $395 | USMX price $250

MRT028 | BEWARE OF DANGEROUS & HAZARDOUS MATERIALS

This course shows employees how to work safely around hazardous materials. It covers various hazard classes, labels, dangerous cargo manifests, and how to handle an incident involving hazardous materials. It also looks at confined spaces, the Hazard Communication standard, the Globally Harmonized System (GHS), and the importance of Safety Data Sheets (SDS).

Purchase $395 | USMX price $250

MRT026 | BE PREPARED

In order to work safely and avoid injuries and incidents on the waterfront, employees must pay attention to how they are moving, climbing, and lifting while doing their jobs. This course prepares employees for their work and shows them how to avoid slip, trip and fall hazards, properly lift and move heavy materials, avoid heat stress, and gives specific safety tips for certain jobs.

Purchase $395 | USMX price $250

MRT029 | GEAR UP FOR SAFETY

Death and serious injuries can be avoided when your employees pay attention to some important safety principles. One of these principles is making sure they have and understand how to use the proper safety gear. This course identifies common Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) and the importance of wearing it properly. The use of fall protection is also covered.

Purchase $395 | USMX price $250

MRT027 | IT'S AN EMERGENCY

The way an emergency is handled can mean the difference between life and death. This course will help employees understand what steps they need to take in case of emergency. It covers the 4 C's of safety, emergency action plans, how to prevent emergencies, and how to respond safely to various types of emergencies.

Purchase $395 | USMX price $250

MRT030 | VEHICLE OPERATIONS

There are hundreds of vehicle collisions on marine terminals every year. This course explains how to make safety happen when operating a vehicle on the waterfront. It covers how to be prepared for the hazards of vehicle operation, pre-operational checks, defensive driving, and how to park safely.

Purchase $395 | USMX price $250

Maritime Safety

Updated Series

MRT031 | WORKING AROUND VEHICLES

Industrial vehicles and equipment help employees move loads quickly and efficiently, but the minute employees forget about safety and take them for granted, they can turn deadly. This course will help make safety a top priority when working around vehicles. It describes how to remain safe around moving vehicles and equipment and how to work safely as a signalperson.

Purchase $395 | USMX price $250

MRT035 | WORKING WITH STEEL CARGO

Working with steel cargo takes tremendous skill, practice, and attention to safety. This course explains how to work safely while loading, unloading, and sorting steel cargo. It identifies the hazards of working with steel and what PPE to wear, and it covers safe work practices and procedures to follow when working in the hold and in the yard.

Purchase $395 | USMX price $250

MRT032 | CONTAINER RAILCAR SAFETY

Working safely on or around container railcars requires that employees understand the hazards and how to work safely. This course explains how to prepare for work with container railcars, how to work safely on and around railcars, and how to communicate in the rail yard.

Purchase $395 | USMX price $250

MRT036 | WORKING WITH LOGS

Working with logs can be a challenge but employees should always want to be on the safe side when they handle this type of cargo. This course identifies the hazards of working with logs and what PPE to wear. It also covers how to work safely with logs on the deck, from the water and dock, and in the yard.

Purchase $395 | USMX price $250

MRT033 | BULK RAIL SAFETY

When working on or around bulk rail cars, you not only have to be cautious of the movement of the cars, but also the individual, unique hazards of the material being carried in each car. This course shows how to prepare for working bulk rail, including knowing the hazards, wearing the right PPE, having good communication, and being prepared for train arrival.

Purchase $395 | USMX price $250

MRT037 | BULK OPERATIONS

Whether employees operate bulk handling equipment, load bulk goods onto a ship with a system of conveyors and free pour chutes, or are part of the cleanup crew, they must always work safely. This course identifies the typical hazards employees will face and what PPE to wear. It also explains how to work safely in the hold and during free pour operations and describes how to operate bulk handling equipment safely.

Purchase $395 | USMX price $250

MRT034 | RO-RO CARGO HANDLING

Working on a RO-RO ship demands the utmost attention. Whether it is handling large, awkward equipment or discharging the latest fleet of cars, there is constant movement. This course discusses wearing the right Personal Protective Equipment (PPE), driving safely on and off RO-RO ships, handling used or unusual loads, and working safely aboard an auto RO-RO ship.
